

SUBSCRIBE
IN THE MAGAZINE
BLOGS
AUDIO & VIDEO
LISTINGS
THE THEATRE
NIGHT LIFE
ART
DANCE
CLASSICAL MUSIC
MOVIES
READINGS AND TALKS
ABOUT
THE NEW YORKER | ARTS & CULTURE | EVENTS

GOINGS ON ABOUT TOWN: CLASSICAL MUSIC

VOXARE STRING QUARTET: “KAMMERRAKU”

James Nyoraku Schlefer occupies a special place in the city’s concert life, composing and performing music that bridges Western and Japanese styles. The Voxare, a vibrant young ensemble adept at both contemporary and classic works, teams up with Schlefer (on shakuhachi) and other fine soloists in a concert of works by Daron Hagen (the “Koto Concerto: Genji”), Paul Moravec (“Shakuhachi Quintet”), Somei Satoh, and Schlefer. (Tenri Cultural Institute, 43A W. 13th St. 800-838-3006. May 6 at 4.)

May 6 – May 6

TENRI CULTURAL INSTITUTE
43A W. 13th St., New York, N.Y.
212-645-2800
tenri.org/